

Insight on Coaching – Guest Bio

David Brownstein
Founder, Hollywood Coaching

Introduction

David Brownstein is founder of Hollywood Coaching, which provides career coaching, leadership coaching, and executive coaching to Hollywood's top professionals. He has coached executives and creatives at all of the major TV and film studios, including ABC, NBC, CBS, Fox, Sony, Warner Brothers, and MTV Networks, among others. His coaching specialty is in developing leadership skills for creative geniuses who are responsible for developing and overseeing creative teams and collaboration.

Experience

An award winning producer, director and screenwriter, David was recently named to a list of "Top 100 Thought Leaders" by Leadership Excellence Magazine.

A professionally trained and International Coach Federation (ICF) certified executive coach, David has developed an approach to coaching, facilitation and workshop/retreats that is well suited to entertainment industry executives. He brings a natural ability to bring out the best in their leadership styles and to new skills that are right for the person, their company and their industry. David is on the faculty of Co-Creative Alliance, an ICF certified coaching-for-leadership training program, for which he is a co-Leader, a coach-in-training supervisor and a featured Master Coach in a live instructional series. CCA completed the largest in-house ICF Certified Coaching Training program in the world for British Telecom in the UK.

His clients have said "If business is war, then David is a 5 star general" and "David is like a wrecking ball with heart." His website is www.hollywoodcoaching.com.

Education

● B.A. in Film-making and Psychology from Hampshire College, Certifications: PCC, CPCC.

Professional Affiliations, Publications and Recognition

David is an author, certified life coach, workshop leader and business consultant. He was featured in The New York Times article on Life-Coaching in Hollywood, and has been interviewed and featured in Movie Maker, Men's Health, Fitness, Awareness and Creative Screenwriting Magazines. He was interviewed live on "The Coaching Show" and has been humorously mentioned on KCRW's "The Business."

He is the author of The Cosmic Mission Of Hollywood: How To Stay Inspired and Productive in The Industry That Rocks The World and is a popular presenter on such topics as "War and Peace in the Writer's Room," "The Essentials of Leadership" and "A Course In Hollywood Miracles."