

Insight on Coaching – Guest Bio

Heather Neely, Principal, Neely Consulting and Associates

Introduction

Heather Neely is a consultant, lecturer, and facilitator specializing in cross-generational issues in the workplace. Heather's writing accomplishments include an award-winning thesis investigating the management styles of Gen Xers, case studies published in trade journals such as Vision Action and for the Bay Area Organization Development Network, and numerous feature articles in the San Francisco Examiner and the Sacramento Bee.

Experience

Heather consults to human resource departments, sales organizations, and college hire programs with leading companies in a variety of industries, with a focus on educating business leaders about the work styles of Gen Xers and the increasing need for cross-generational management strategies. She also assists organizations in identifying strategies for managing, training and retaining America's emerging workforce populations.

Education

Heather holds a Masters Degree in Organizational Psychology from John F. Kennedy University.