

Insight on Coaching – Guest Bio

Lynne Gilliland Garber, MS CPCC

Introduction

Lynne is the co-founder and president of a training and coaching company based in the United States. It works with hundreds of individuals and organizations in the US and overseas on leadership, managing performance, career transition and team performance. She is a certified professional coach with 20 years experience in the field of management, organizational change and professional development. Lynne also facilitates organization visioning processes and leads networking groups, workshops on leadership and using the Coach Approach.

Experience

Lynne has consulted with teams, executives and individuals in the international and business community for 5 years. Some of her roles have included:

- Working with an executive team of a youth-focused organization to have difficult conversations
- Teaching the coach approach to 40 managers for a grocery store chain
- Co-leading a workshop on leadership for small business owners
- Coaching a nonprofit executive director to take her organization to the next level
- Supporting a VP of an international organization to create a team with her staff

Education

- Master of Science, International Agricultural Development from the University of California at Davis, CA

Professional Affiliations, Publications and Recognition

- An active member of the International Coaching Federation.
- Co-lead, with Virginia Kellogg, a Special Interest Group on Coaching and Nonprofits.
- A founding organizer of Coaches Alliance for Social Action (CASA) that links coaches with nonprofits.
- Board member of the YWCA of Greater Baltimore
- Member of Towsontowne Rotary.
- “The Art and Power of Yes” at the Maryland Conference of the Business and Professional Women '05
- “Coaching the Global Village” at the '06 ICF Euro conference